Description: Billables is a time management application aimed primarily at attorneys and other professions that charge on a billable hour basis. Keeping track of time spent on client tasks has never been easier with Billables. Create a client profile, add a matter, and tap “Start.” It’s that easy.

While you work, Billables automatically keeps track of the time spent working, even if the application is sent to the background or your phone screen locks. When you are finished with your current task, Billables automatically converts the time from Hours:Minutes:Seconds to Hours:FractionalHour (i.e. one hour and thirty minutes to 1.5 hours). Using iOS’s built-in voice dictation capabilities, Billables lets you simply speak into your phone and watch as the description of the work you did appears on screen. Billables lets you easily email the description of your work to an email address of your choice for easy recording into a Case Management System.

Billables also contains a graph view of the hours billed in the past week so the user knows if he/she is meeting his or her weekly targets. The graph is also color coded for easy viewing.
